TO

DR. MARION L. SMITH

FOR HIS SPLENDID LOYALTY TO BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN, HIS HIGHER TYPE OF CHRISTIAN CHARACTER WHICH HAS GUIDED AND INSPIRED US, FOR HIS SMILE MEANS SOMETHING MORE THAN JUST A SMILE, AND BECAUSE HIS ARROW HITTING ONE IDEAL ALWAYS REVEALS HIS NEXT TARGET TO BE A HIGHER ONE, WE RESPECTFULLY DEDICATE THIS THE FOURTEENTH ISSUE OF LA REVUE.

DEDICATION

WHOSE SENSE OF HUMOR IS AS LARGE AS HIS HEART; WHOSE POPULARITY IS WELL DESERVED BY HIS UNTIRING EFFORTS TO MAKE BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN A GREATER AND PLEASANTER COLLEGE; WHOSE NAME SHALL BE REMEMBERED BECAUSE HE MADE MORE THAN ONE STUDENT SMILE, AND WHOSE MATCHLESS ABILITY OF PROFESSORSHIP HAS BEEN IMITATED, WE HUMBLY DEDICATE THIS ISSUE OF OUR YEAR BOOK.

TO

DR. EMORY Q. HAWK

Men come together, to build men.
Standing on a higher plain,
Let down their hands to us below,
And pull us up to them—so slow.

—Nagel.

RÉSUMÉ OF 1932 FOOTBALL SEASON

The Golden Cat gridmen from Sunshine Slopes opened the season by taking one of the worst lickings ever administered to a Gillem-coached eleven, but staged a remarkable comeback to win the Dixie Conference Crown. Coaches Gillem and Robinson were confronted with the problem of moulding a grid machine from a squad composed primarily of green sophomores and light lettermen. However, when the season came to a close, the Hilltop mentors had a smooth-functioning, well-balanced eleven, composed of stellar performers, but with no outstanding stars. Two Panther players were placed on the Associated Press All-Dixie Conference Eleven, these being Captain Lewis Beard, center, and Hubert Allbrooks, end. With the end of the season Birmingham-Southern had a record of five wins and one loss with Dixie Conference teams. The Auburn Plainsmen and Lyola Wolves were the non-conference elevens that set back the Gold and Black Panthers.

Th gridiron year opened for the Cats in the annual clash with the Auburn Tigers at the capital city, Montgomery. The Mighty Sleeping Giants unleashed a powerful running attack which ran up a 61-0 score on the Methodist inexperienced squad. About six of the starters were first-year varsity men, while the exponents of the Notre Dame system were practically all veterans and hefty, too. When the season came to a close, Chet Wynn's Cohorts had a record of six victories and not a single loss in the Southern Conference.

This crushing defeat was of course a bitter dose to swallow, but it did not discourage the fighting Panthers. The following week-end a squad of twenty-five journeyed to New Orleans and held the strong Lyola Wolfpack to a 12-0 victory in their own stadium under the arc lights.

FOOTBALL COACHES

CAREY ROBINSON

JENKS GILLEM

When a limited coaching staff takes a green bunch of sophomore football players and, after losing a most disheartening game at the first of the season, wins the first Dixie Conference football championship for Birmingham-Southern, that's a good sign there's plenty of quality in the staff. That's also a sign that the sophomores had excellent training when they were freshmen.

This is exactly what Athletic Director Carey Robinson and Head Football Coach Jenks Gillem did in 1932 in the way of football. Coach Robinson trained a line, reputed by many sports scribes as the best in the Dixie Conference. The line was made up mostly of inexperienced men from the freshman ranks. Three members of this forward wall were ranked on All-Dixie Conference elevens. Jenks Gillem built a backfield that, as a whole, was unparred in the conference. Two of its members were All-D. C. backs.

Coach Robinson, a former All-Southern lineman at Auburn, also coached freshman basketball and varsity baseball in a manner that was a credit to Birmingham-Southern. With the aid of the Simpson gymnasium, Coach Robinson initiated a well-rounded physical training schedu'e for the freshmen. Members of the football squad helped him in carrying out this fine program.

Hailing from Sewanee, where he was known as their best punter, Jenks Gillem emphasizes blocking as most vital in an offensive attack. And naturally he uses punt-formation frequently. The quick-kick is conservative Gillem's most effective and demoralizing defensive weapon.

Freshman Football Coach Ben Englebert was handicapped by materia', but did a remarkably good job. Besides turning out a track team of some repute almost single-handedly, he as varsity basketball coach, won the City Collegiate and Big Four basketball championships. The City Collegiate crown was the seventh title in succession. While title-grabbing, Coach Englebert took time out long enough to teach mathematics. The professor has a degree from Birmingham-Southern, and has been a valuab'e asset to his alma mater both athletically and scholastically.

Though, as stated, the coaching staff was limited, Birmingham-Southern was represented by top-notch teams in football, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis. Coaches Gillem, Robinson, and Englebert, with the co-operation of former star athletes, made this fine athletic record. It is suggested and approved by many that 1932 was one of the greatest years in Birmingham-Southern's athletic history.

THE MIGHTY TRIO

LEWIS BEAIRD. To the lot of this husky pivotman fell the captaincy of 1932's great eleven. Always a tower of strength in the line, Beaird came into his own this year, p'aying a brand of ball that earned for him a guard position on the mythical All-Dixie Conference team.

LOY VAUGHN. Regarded as the fastest man in the Cat rearworks, this fleet halfback was a constant threat to the enemy. The long suit of this gentleman was lugging back enemy kicks and was he good—ask Millsaps and Southwestern. Loy is a senior and will be sorely missed when football roll is called next year.

ED OWENS. This blond flankman alternated with Haygood in handling the punting duties and his long spirals frequently drove the enemy back into their own territory and set the stage for a Panther touchdown. Ed is a junior and will be counted on heavily next year to aid in the defense of the newly-won grid crown.

SEASON REVUE, 1932

The sophomores were steadier under fire, and with more experience added they exhibited potential power. Lewis Haygood, sophomore end, booted the ball twelve times for an average of forty yards. Louis Townsend and Ernest Teel, also first year men, played creditable games. Little Masten O'Neal made the longest run of this second contest when he galloped twenty-five yards on an off-tackle play.

In the rain, sleet, and storm the Panthers won their opening Dixie Conference tilt. Their first touchdown trimmed the Mississippi Choctaws, 6-4. On a dry field the Hill-toppers would have scored two or more touchdowns. Allbrooks, Southern's All-Dixie flankman and pass receiver deluxe, scored a touchdown which the referee claimed he did not see in the blinding rain. Quarterback O'Neal gave the Indians a safety and two points late in the game, but probably kept them from chalking up six or seven points.

The colorful Centre Colonels, of Danville, Kentucky, were next on the Cats' schedule. These Mountaineers gave the Golden Cats their only Dixie Conference defeat. Late in the fourth quarter a bad pass from center, on the third down, lost fifteen yards for the Methodist eleven, and on the fourth down another bad pass caused "Bulldog" Johnson to be tackled behind his goal line. Early in the game the Gillem machine drove to the five-yard line, only to lose the ball on a fumble. This was a tough game to lose, and should have been a victory for the Dixie champs.

Two sophomore teams battled at Legion the next Saturday, when the Millsaps Majors did battle with the Panthers. The Purple and White squad had eight second year men in their opening line-up, while Coach Gillem had seven. The Davis Bros. were held in bay, and Vaughn, O'Neal, "Urm" Davis and company were victorious by a 13-0 score. These Mississippians later trounced the Howard Dogs, 19-0.

The third home game for the Panthers saw them topple the Southwestern favorites. The Lynxs were favored to win easily, but "Chicken" High was a marked man and "Flash" Newton was out with injuries, while Vaughn and "Dog" Johnson hit their stride. Captain-elect Johnson plowed through the Memphis team's line for long gains and short gains. Every Panther played like a real champ and worked together as one.

SPONSORS

Floy Martin and Violet Nappi were the sponsors who graced the Southern bench at the Howard game and added their beauty and charm to the Victory March of the Panthers.

VARSITY SQUAD

They are saying this is the greatest squad in Hilltop history—this squad that brought to Sunshine Slopes its first championship. To no one man or group of men can be attributed the brilliant success of this mighty machine. A never-say-die spirit, an unselfish co-operation, and an uncanny alertness were the factors which "made" the Southern Panthers 1932 Dixie Champions.

CHEERLEADERS

Back of the success of every championship team is the spirit of an interested student body. Arousing the student body to the highest pitch of enthusiasm and thereby encouraging the men who were fighting their heart out on the field, was the part these men played in the success of the 1932 Dixie Conference champions.

A typical shot of a Panther ball-carrier in action—this scene shows a fleet halfback skirting an enemy flank while Gold and Black blockers prepare the way. Built around a group of fast backs, the Hilltop flank attack was a steady ground-gainer.

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

"URM" DAVIS, rated as the best prospect among the sophomores, was out most of the season with a broken ankle. He is a 195 pounder who asks no quarter and gives no quarter to those attempting to traverse the end he plays. Watch this lad step for the next two years.

"DIRTY" WEDGWORTH had the hard luck to play the same position as Captain Beaird, but in spite of this he was used a great deal at both center and guard. Those who saw the Southwestern game will never forget the way he stopped a scoring threat by intercepting a pass and returning it thirty yards.

THERON FISHER is the other half of the man-killing duet which played at the tackle positions. The stump 195 pounder received many first choice votes for Dixie Conference tackle, and was placed on the second team. He means only two more years of woe for opponents who think they can go over tackle.

FALTON LECROY is probably the fastest guard on the squad and one of the lightest. Although he weighed but 165 pounds, he did better than hold his own against opposition. His speed in starting enables him to lead interference for the ball carriers.

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

"SLOPPY" O'NEAL. Alternate captain and quarterback is the burden he carried, but they rested lightly on the back of this 135-pound Panther. "Sloppy" did most of the passing and broken field running for the squad and handled both capably. His pass for a touchdown in the Howard game will long be remembered.

"BIFF" BRINER is probably the champion hard-luck artist of the school. He was rendered hors de combat by a broken jaw, which kept him incapacitated most of the season. His fierce blocking and tackling as well as his line plunging will be available for another year provided he can fight shy of the injury jinx.

LEWIS HAYGOOD is another of those flaming sophomores. This lad played a wonderful game at end and did most of the punting. His punts brought us out of many holes. His only need is a little experience to make him one of the best ends in the South.

FLOYD CLARK is one of that crop of sophomores who flashed so brilliantly last Fall. His tackling is so vicious the spectators can hear it in the stands. After much shifting "Watson" has finally found his place at guard. He will deal plenty of misery to the opposition next year.

JOE NORRIS is another husky Junior linesman who should come into his own next year. Handicapped by injuries, this stalwart pivotman was confined to the bench a good portion of the season through the consistently brilliant play of Captain Beaird. Joe will be in the thick of the fight for the center position next year.

"IKE" YOUNG was the first string quarterback on the varsity and blocker deluxe until injured in the Southwestern game. With two more years to play he should be one of the best quarterbacks in the South. His blocking led the way on practically every long run made by the Panthers last season.

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

CAPTAIN BEAIRD has made one of the greatest leaders the Hilltop has ever known. His inspiration and leadership has been a major factor in bringing the Dixie Conference championship here. Although Lewis played center, he was named All-Dixie guard because of his sterling work at this position while on the defense.

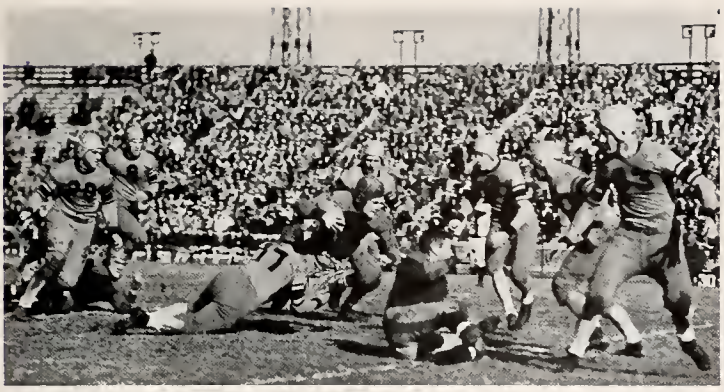

CLIFFORD HARPER. One of those able ends who had so much to do with the success of the team, "Pineapple" is a husky who wrecked many end runs around his position. He is one of the surest pass receivers on the squad and a power on defense. He is a junior.

DEWEY MITCHELL. Another one of those bruising sophomore tackles. Dewey, among the heaviest men on the squad, was a hard driving tackle who should be heard from next Fall. He was a shining light on the defense and a good man at opening holes for Johnson and Thomas.

JOHN AUBREY THOMAS. This senior will be missed when the whistle is blown for the opening kick-off next Fall. On these kicks he consistently booted the oval 50 and 55 yards. On this phase of the game he was one of the best in the South. He was an excellent blocker and a good line buster. He will leave quite a hole at fullback.

JOHN McBEE. This senior will be hard to replace at one guard position, but harder to replace as a defensive center. His value is attested by the fact that he failed to play in only one quarter, and that in a game already won. He is a good blocker and one of the most vicious tacklers on the squad.

EDWIN OWENS. This gentleman reached up two feet in the Howard game to snag a pass for the winning touchdown. "Cue-Ball," besides playing a good game at end, alternated with Johnson and Haygood for the punting duties. This lad has another year to serve for his Alma Mater.

Another stirring example of champion Panthers' vicious brand of football is this shot which shows one reason why Cat opponents were foiled in so many of their attempts to gain the "promised land."

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

LOYAL BOWERS. "Speedy" is another senior who has proved his worth time and again. This husky was a terror to the opposition by reason of his yeoman service at a tackle berth. The giant blond has been somewhat handicapped by injuries, but has managed to stay in the thick of the fight in spite of this.

LUCIUS BRANNON. Contributing yeoman service to the success of the championship team was Manager Lucius Brannon, who handled the managerial reins with efficiency and conducted the business end of the Panther campaign without a flaw.

LOY VAUGHN. This senior, after being out of school for a year, returned better than ever, to sew up one halfback position. His return of kick-offs and punts helped to place the team in scoring position many times. He was probably one of the shiftiest men on the squad, and one of the best blockers.

FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

ERNEST TEEL. Ernest is a sophomore back who is noted for his passing ability and speed. He is a hard man to haul down once he has passed the scrimmage line, because of his speed and tremendous leg-drive. As a defensive halfback he has no equal on the squad.

A. C. CURRY. This lad is probably the most improved player on the squad. At the beginning of the season he was given only an outside chance at a tackle berth, but he made history in the Centre game and has been a regular tackle since that time. He is another one of those sophomores.

NOWLIN KEENER. Nowlin is another hard worker who will be missing when the roll is called next year. Lack of experience in high school handicapped this lad, who has become a good tackle. What he lacked in experience he made up in hard work and perseverance.

LOUIE TOWNSEND. Louie is following in the steps of his brother as an accomplished footballer. This sophomore guard had fought his way to a regular position by the middle of the season. He weighs only 170, but every pound is fighting meat.

HUBERT ALLBROOKS. "Chesty" Allbrooks proved his value as an end by being named for his second consecutive year for the All-Dixie team. He is a deadly pass receiver and probably has no equal for his weight in the South in his ability to break up plays. His 150 pounds of dynamite will be sorely missed next fall.

FREEMAN JOHNSON. "Bulldog" has proved his worth by being almost unanimously selected as captain for the coming year. Probably the hardest worker on the squad, this junior should be an inspiration to his mates. A good blocker and the hardest driving back on the squad, he made the second All-Dixie team at fullback.

SEASON REVUE, 1932

Overconfident and expecting a set-up, the Big City Champs were nearly upset by the Springhill Badgers, the following week in the Gulf city. The Jesuits scored first and threatened throughout the game. After a hard fight the Panthers emerged victorious by the score of 14-6. "Urm" Davis kicked both the extra points before going out of the game with a broken leg.

Then came the Marne. The traditional struggle was fiercely fought, as usual, and the score does not represent the comparative strength of the two arch rivals. Birmingham-Southern won by a one touchdown margin, and came close to scoring two other times. A pass, O'Neal to Owens, scored the winning marker, and Davis hobbled out and kicked the extra point, then returned to the bench. This climaxed a successful season for the Hilltop gridmen.

Nine Gold and Black wearers finished their careers this year and will be hard to replace. Captain Beaird, Thomas, O'Neal, Allbrooks, McBee, Bowers, Keener, and Vaughn were the ones to write finis to their football career. Fifteen sophomores earned letters this year and with a letterman available for every position and likely prospects to graduate from the frosh ranks, a good season will be expected again next year. Two Dixie Conference crowns in a row! Why not?

1932 FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Over sixtey new students turned out as prospective candidates for the Rat football team of 1932. Coach Ben Englebert was confronted with a real difficulty in having to designate eleven men as the first team because of the presence of many former high school captains and All-State gridmen.

The Cubs started the season in fine style by tieing the strong Auburn Rodents, 6-6, thus gaining for themselves a moral victory. In their second appearance the baby Panthers bowed to the University of Alabama's powerful and heavy freshman eleven on the Tuscaloosa gridiron. The Hilltop lads encountered several smaller and less versatile teams, among which were Fairfield, Southern Military Academy, and Phillips High. The Englebertmen were returned victors in each of these combats. In their final game, played at Legion Field, the Cubs were defeated by the Howard Bullpups, 6-2. The stalwart line of the Howardites proved to be the undoing of the Hilltoppers, the menacing enemy forward wall never giving the Kitten backs an opportunity to show their power.

The success of the Gold and Black freshman eleven on the grid is greatly increased by the fact that many of the players gave promise of capably filling the vacancies in the varsity squad created by the graduation of several of the Panther stars.

"Spud" Holman, brilliant center, was elected captain by his mates. He filled the position most effectively until rendered hors de combat by a broken jaw. Henry Frank Chunn was given the captaincy after Holman's injury. Russell Kersey, back, served as alternate captain.

TRACK

TRACKSTERS

JOE NORRIS. This athlete believes in all-year training. For after a very tough football season and a tiring period with the basketeers, he turned his efforts towards track—and did good, too. With Bowers, Joe excelled as a field man. His best work was done with the shot and the discus. If experience is a helper, we will read about this man in the 1933 season.

BEAMON COOLEY. "Curly" surprised the old men when he turned out to be a natural-born miler. This was his first year, but he made those cinders feel like he'd known them from 'way back. The ability of this neophyte to get around that mile was very noticeable; he showed his heels to the others in the Howard meet.

LEO EDGE. Though this sprightly trackster had allowed a year's lay-off to accumulate, he came back in fine shape. As a broad jumper, Leo has always been able to get over twenty feet—and that's some distance. We are looking forward to watching him this Spring, for it is rumored that he also possesses an uncanny stride for dashes.

LEWIS HAYGOOD. Here is another freshman who will be heard from this season. Although he was a first year man last Spring, his splendid form and perseverance promises that plenty of scores will come from Haygood way in future meets. Lewis participated in that fine mile relay team.

ARNOLD POWELL. Again the inexperienced usher forward a fine trackster. This sophomore turned out to be one of the best high hurdlers ever to grace the Hilltop. Arnold was right in form and frame of mind.

TRACKSTERS

PRICE McKENZIE. A Butler County product, "Pip" was a revelation at both the furlong and the quarter mile. This bald-headed gentleman played quite an important role as a member of the relay team.

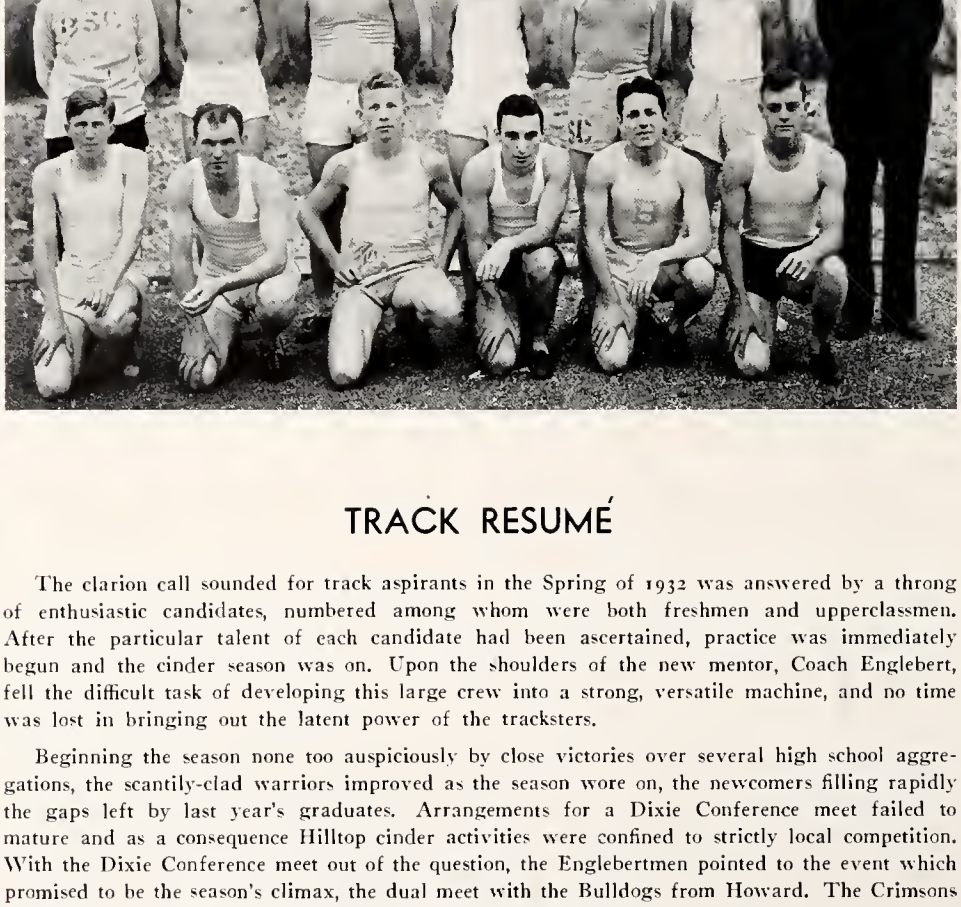

LOYAL BOWERS. This hefty fellow furnished the back-bone of that group known as "weight men." "Speedy" displayed versatility by both tossing the shot and hurling the discus. When he stepped into the heaving circle, the scorers would get their pencils ready, for Bowers' efforts meant points to the Gold and Black men.

LESTER FOSSICK. Though small and light, he did more than his share when it came to running in points. Not satisfied with starring at one position, Lester was listed for three positions. He excelled in broad jump, was among the fastest in the dashes, and helped the half-mile relay team.

JAMES CRENSHAW. "Pos" is a veteran quarter-miler and he really knows his pace. This pre-med student took time off from his labs to help the cindermen. Not only does he place in his specialty, but also in the 880 dash. His value as anchor man on the victorious mile relay team will never be forgotten.

PETE GOODWIN. We saw quite a bit of this fellow in the Howard meet, where his presence was quite noticeable—the effects being shown on the score board. Pete earned his position as a distance man when he placed in both the half-mile and the mile. We expect to hear more from him this Spring.

TRACK RESUMÉ

The clarion call sounded for track aspirants in the Spring of 1932 was answered by a throng of enthusiastic candidates, numbered among whom were both freshmen and upperclassmen. After the particular talent of each candidate had been ascertained, practice was immediately begun and the cinder season was on. Upon the shoulders of the new mentor, Coach Englebert, fell the difficult task of developing this large crew into a strong, versatile machine, and no time was lost in bringing out the latent power of the tracksters.

Beginning the season none too auspiciously by close victories over several high school aggregations, the scantily-clad warriors improved as the season wore on, the newcomers filling rapidly the gaps left by last year's graduates. Arrangements for a Dixie Conference meet failed to mature and as a consequence Hilltop cinder activities were confined to strictly local competition. With the Dixie Conference meet out of the question, the Englebertmen pointed to the event which promised to be the season's climax, the dual meet with the Bulldogs from Howard. The Crimsons came out of the East boasting several scintillating individual stars who had competed in the Southern Olympic trials held at Tuscaloosa. To match these performers the Hilltoppers presented a well-balanced, versatile machine. These two ancient enemies met on the cinder-sprinkled turf of Legion Field and the Golden Panthers from Sunshine Slopes were returned victors by the conclusive count, 75-55.

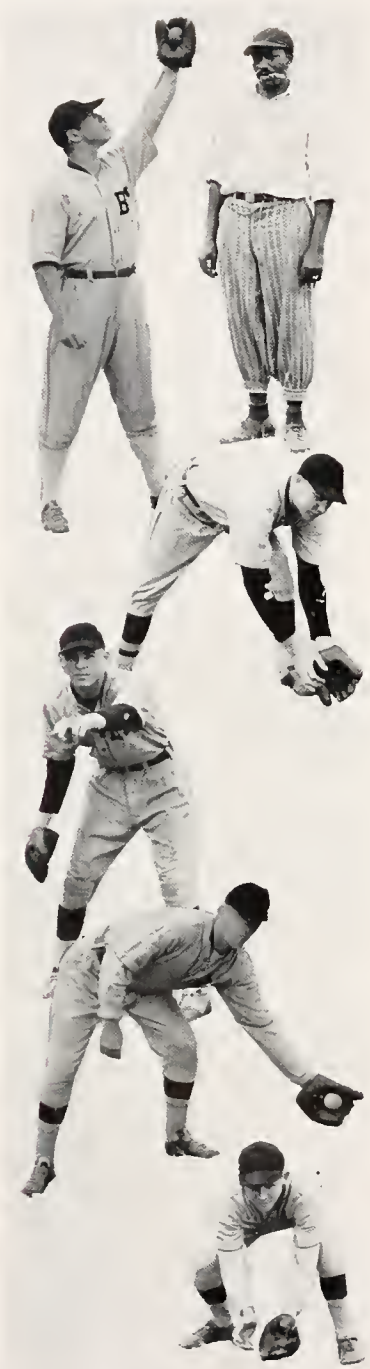

Although the Englebertmen encountered but few true tests of their real power during the season, their potential strength, along with the prevalence of first year performers among their number, aroused high hopes among Cat followers and pointed to successful seasons to come.

Coach Englebert awarded varsity letters to the following: Al Blanton, Loyal Bowers, James Crenshaw, Leo Edge, Pete Goodwin, Louis Meier, Joe Norris, Masten O'Neal, Arnold Powell, Carl Wright, and Manager Lucius Brannon.

Numerals were awarded the ensuing freshmen: Beamon Cooley, Frank Day, Lester Fossick, Lewis Haygood, Horace Lucas, Price MacKenzie, Ernest Teel, James Walker, and Kermit Young.

BASE BALL

BASEBALL

PLAYERS

Jimmy was a capable utility man and turned in some good performances. This closed out his career on the Sunshine Slopes.

Starting at the hot corner, but playing most of the season in the outfield, "Jelly" Cranford was a dependable hitter, batting either left-handed or right-handed. This will be his last season on the Hilltop nine, and he should do much damage with his stickwork.

Zach "Lefty" Scheussler was the ace of the pitching staff and played in the outfield part of the time. This is the little man's first year on the varsity slab, and will go places before his college career is over.

"Gran'ma" was somewhat slow on the bases, but a nifty first sacker and a dependable hitter. This was his first year on the varsity and with that year of experience he should develop into a polished performer this Spring.

When Cranford was shifted to the outfield, Frank Stevenson took over the hot corner and filled the place in a very capable manner. A good throwing arm, fast on the bases, and a fair hitter—all these things may be said of the sophomore.

"Midget" Walton Wright had tough luck throughout the season, but finished with a batting average well above three hundred. Wright's regular position is short, but he ended the season behind the plate, taking over the post left vacant by "Bullo" Williams. This little man has a bullet-like peg, both from short and behind the batter, also running the bases in fine style. He played the last few games of the season with a broken thumb.

BASEBALL

PLAYERS

Al led the Panther horsehiders in both hitting and fielding. He was a dependable outfielder, usually holding down the sun garden. His batting average was above the five hundred mark. In the batting order "Pinky" was the lead-off man.

Batting in the clean-up position and handling the rightfield were the tasks accomplished by this hefty diamond star. "Fot" is captain-elect for this year's Panther team. He was the home run king for the squad and will make a capable leader for Coach Robinson's men.

Another new-comer to the varsity ranks was Don Sparks, who turned in a neat job in the outfield against the University of Alabama and also at the plate with his bludgeon. He also saw service in other games and well earned his letter.

Although not a mighty slugger, Hubert was a valuable asset to the team with his fielding and chatting. He kept the ole pep up on the infield and against F. H. Benning he handled thirteen chances without an error. He is a senior and will complete his three years on the varsity squad this spring.

With a hip-pocket delivery and much speed, Owens, South Alabama product, served as a relief hurler. Against Vanderbilt and Millsaps he did some good hurling, even though he was credited with a loss.

A diminutive hurler, but with good control, O'Neal aided the pitching staff. He turned back the Alabama City team, 3-2, hurling a heady game.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The Panther diamondeers undertook the most comprehensive schedule ever arranged for a Hilltop baseball squad. The season closed with a record of four wins and four losses in Dixie Conference competition and a record of seven wins and thirteen defeats for all games played, which included Birmingham Barons, Montgomery Lions, and two Southern Conference teams.

Seven lettermen reported for practice as the season opened, with several likely frosh prospects also on the list. After practice games with the Birmingham Barons and Acipco, the Hilltop men journeyed to the University of Alabama where they met the strong Tide team on "A" Day. This was a well-played game, though Alabama finally won 6-3. The Cats had ten men stranded on bases and several times had chances to annex the tilt. Blanton led at bat with three hits out of five times up. Sparks, who started in right field for the first time, made a sensational catch in the third which drew a great applause from the stands.

The Millsaps Majors offered Dixie Conference competition for the Panthers in a two-game series at McLendon Park. The first tilt was a 7-4 victory for the Mississippians. Five double plays were executed by the Cat infielders, while Williams and Stewart hammered out four baggers for the Robinson team. The following afternoon Birmingham-Southern won over the Majors in the ninth inning, 8-7. "Lefty" Zack Scheussler hurled a beautiful game, allowing the visitors seven scattered hits and whiffing eleven batsmen.

On April 15 a road jaunt to Montgomery and Fort Benning, Georgia, was made by the Panther baseballers. The Montgomery Professionsals won handily, but the two-game series with the army team was split, Southern copping the opener 6-1, and Fort Benning the second, 10-4. In the first contest Chesty Allbrooks handled thirteen chances at the keystone bag without a miscue. "Lefty" Scheussler pitched another masterful game limiting Uncle Sam's boys to fewer scattered singles.

Returning home, the Hilltoppers engaged the Mississippi Choctaws in two games filled full of hits and runs. Twenty-one hits were garnered by the Panther nine in the opening game with the final score being 14-4. Battle and Wright socked homers, while Capt. Al Blanton secured three hits out of five trips to the plate. In the second, the heavy batwork continued, with the Panthers collecting seventeen hits and thirteen runs as the Choctaws were blasting out twelve hits and twelve runs. "Lefty" Scheussler got credit for beating Mississippi College twice in as many days when he went in during the eighth and rode out a 13-12 victory.

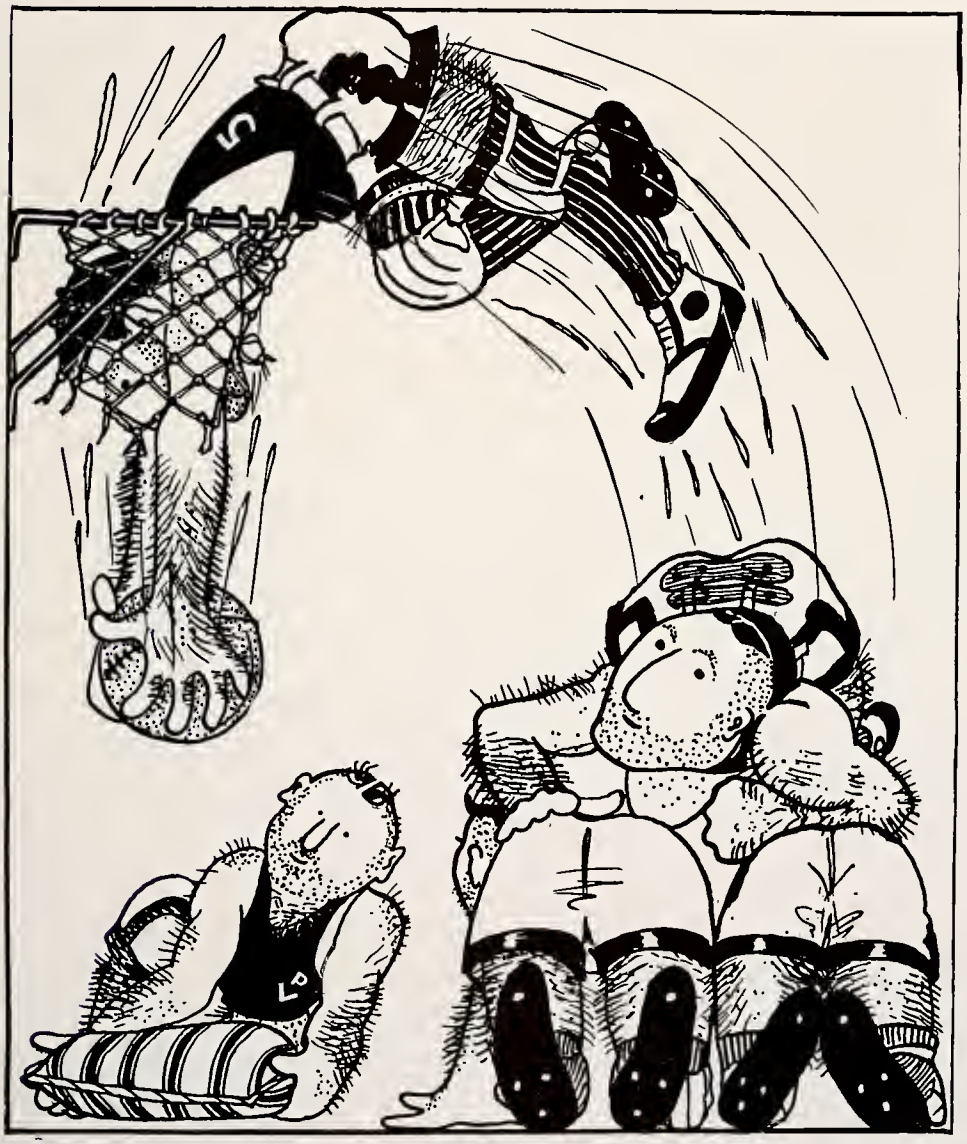

On a week's tour through Mississippi, Mississippi College won two games from the Panthers and Millsaps split a two-game series. Thomas, captain-elect, and Cranford led the Panthers at bat on this trip which brought the season to a close.

Blanton led the team in batting, with an average of .442, and Thomas ran a close second with an average above the four-hundred mark. Scheussler, a sophomore southpaw hurler, was the leading pitcher for the Hilltoppers. The following men received letters for their work on the diamond: Capt. Al Blanton, Captain-elect Thomas, Allbrooks, Battle, Cranford, Dunn, Oneal, Owens, Scheussler, Sparks, Stevenson, Stewart, Wright, and Manager McCoy Mays.

BASKET BALL

Varsity Basketball

SEASON SUMMARY

Shortly after the close of the football season, Coach Englebert issued his annual call for cage team aspirants, and practices were held daily at the Birmingham Athletic Club. The graduation of Captain Waller and the failure of Frank Stevenson and Captain-elect Jackson to return to school left gaping holes to be filled in this year's varsity line-up. To offset the loss of these men, last year's champion Frosh team returned almost to a man and gloom turned to cheer in the Panther camp.

Building his team around the nucleus of his returning letter-men, Captain Wright, Holt, and Battle, Coach Englebert lost no time in whipping his squad into shape, at the same time outlining an ambitious schedule for them. Beginning the season with this group of lightweights, he capitalized their lack of height and weight and groomed his midgets into a versatile combination possessing a fast-breaking, bewildering offensive that swept all before it. Three members of last year's powerful Freshman quintet

PLAYERS

CAPTAIN WALTON WRIGHT. Succeeding to the post of leadership vacated by Captain-elect Roy Jackson, this diminutive forward has proven himself to be a capable leader and basket sharpshooter. As the hub of the bewildering offense of the Panthers the "Battler" has shown himself to be brilliant and inspiring. His absence from the ranks next year will leave a hole difficult to fill.

WALTER HOLT. Generally regarded as one of the most capable guards ever to wear the Gold and Black, Holt is a man feared by all Panther opponents. With the appearance of an opposing high point man Walter is immediately assigned the job of covering him and, as a consequence, the said high point man's total for the night is practically nil. Always calm and cool, Holt will be sorely missed next year.

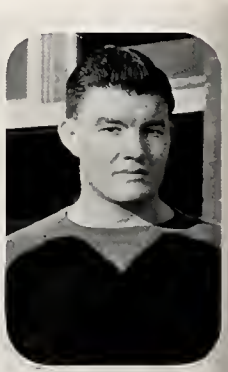

LAURIE BATTLE. By clever defensive work and steady all-round play Laurie has earned for himself a position in many starting line-ups this season.

HUBERT WINDHAM. Another one of Southern's mighty mites is this former Boys' Club star who, as a sophomore, has earned for himself a regular starting berth. Little but loud, this forward, with his accurate shooting and flashy floorwork, was an indispensable cog in the Panther machine. With two more years in which to develop, this lightweight should prove to be one of the most capable forwards to cavort on Panther hardwood.

ROBERT VERNON. Another graduate from last year's powerful freshman team is "Chink," who, after a bitter fight has earned the starting pivot position. This husky center is the largest man on the squad and his heady floor game and handling of the tip-off made him valuable on both offense and defense.

PLAYERS

WOODROW BEARD. Possessor of both speed and eye for the basket, "Snozzle" covers the court with remarkable expertness. Versatile and colorful, Beard should develop remarkably in his two more years of competition at the running guard position.

PAUL TAYLOR. Another member of the reserve is Taylor, powerful pivotman, who alternated with Vernon. Taylor, particularly adept at snatching 'em from the boards, is equally dangerous on the offense and defense. He is a junior.

BRAWLEY. Another promising recruit from the freshman team is Brawley, who plays a steady game at guard. He will be going places after gaining this year's experience.

LOUIE TOWNSEND. Supplying gameness where he lacked experience, "Little Baldy" held an important position on this year's reserve list. He has two more years of competition and his ability to play guard should be greatly improved for next year.

RAYMOND WAID. Improving with the season's play, this junior forward displayed a nice brand of ball. And after serving his time as a substitute, he should come through in fine style.

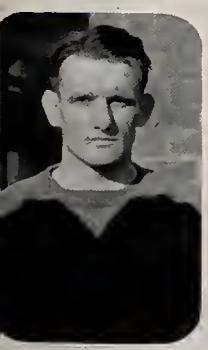

SEASON SUMMARY

won starting berths on the varsity and the others are giving the veterans a bitter fight. Each starting line-up was chosen from the following six: Captain Walton Wright and Soph Hubert Windham, high-point man to date, at the forwards; "Chink" Vernon, hefty soph at center; and "Breezy" Beard, Laurie Battle and Walter Holt alternating at the guards. With plenty of capable reserve talent in Taylor, Waid, Brawley, and Townsend, substitutions were made without seriously weakening the five.

Prior to the Christmas holidays, the Panthers made their annual trek into East Alabama, trouncing Russell Mills, 39-16, and Lanett Athletic Club, 46-19, on successive days. After the conclusion of this excursion, the team disbanded for the holidays, resuming practice immediately after the reconvening of school. Continuing their schedule, the Hilltoppers met the John Bollas Greenies, a group of professionals and former college luminaries. After a slow start, the Gold and Black machine gained momentum and soundly whipped the pros, 39-26. As the first of their encounters within the Big Four, city cage league, the Englebertmen engaged the crack Boy's Club five. Due to a substantial lead built up in the first few minutes, they beat the Comets, 38-35, although the Clubbers had made a sensational come-back.

With four victories over powerful foes already in the bag, Southern followers were hailing this year's mighty aggregation as the strongest to represent the Hilltop in years.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

In his efforts to evolve a successful edition of the 1932-33 freshman basketball team, Coach Carey Robinson initiated a new system for the selection of likely prospects for his quintet. With the aid of members of the varsity athletic teams who served as coaches, Mentor Robinson introduced the idea of a series of combats between the freshman physical education classes. A league was formed and the outstanding performers in the league were encouraged to report for the early season practices. Consequently, when the call for frosh basketeers was sounded, Coach Robinson was greeted by a host of hopefuls, one of the largest squads ever to assemble on the Hilltop.

But the work had only begun. Having assembled his likeliest crew, Coach Robinson was now faced with the task of molding together a winning combination. Immediately after the resumption of classes following the Christmas holidays, hard scrimmages were dished out to the candidates, until finally this combination asserted itself: Moseley and Haynes, forwards; Johnson, center; Ricketts and Martin, guards. McNiell, Eddins, Warren, Lowry, and Orr form a strong reserve corp capable of re-enforcing weak units in the starting five.

Almost maintaining the blazing pace set by last year's championship frosh five, this year's Cub machine has swept aside opponent after opponent in the Men's City League and with the addition of a little more steam bids fair to cop the bunting. In this year's first of the traditional clashes with the Bullpups of Howard College, the Baby Panthers were drubbed to the tune of 38-22, the encounter serving as a prelude to the third battle between the varsity fives of the two colleges. Battling on the floor of the Birmingham Athletic Club gym, the Rodents trimmed the Junior Crimsons, 35-31, by virtue of a spirited rally in the dying moments of the game, featuring the long-range shooting of Moseley and Johnson, the latter ringing sixteen points for his night's total.

Boasting several performers of varsity calibre, this year's Rat squad is expected to provide the veterans with strong competition in the battle for next year's varsity berths.

TENNIS SUMMARY

Handicapped by inexperience and lack of a full-time coach, the 1932 Panther tennis machine failed to enjoy the unbounded prosperity which has been the lot of Hilltop racqueteers in seasons past. Only one letterman returned from the 1931 S. I. A. A. championship team and upon this man, Captain Stewart, fell the burden of coaching, captaining, and managing the 1932 aggregation. In addition to Captain Stewart, the most able of the hopefuls to report for practice were Downes, Brummal, Watson, and Elliott.

Engagements with the champion Hilltoppers were much in demand among the South's teams, but lack of funds necessitated the curtailment of what ordinarily would have been an extensive schedule. As a season's opener the Gold and Black courtmen met defeat at the hands of Centre's Colonels, 6-1, this defeat being followed by a setback at the hands of Louisiana State University, 4-2. Aroused by these two stinging defeats, the Panthers, paced by Downs and Watson, held the strong Mississippi College squad to a 3-3 draw. Cheered by the return to form of Captain Stewart, who copped his singles match and then teamed with Brummal to annex a doubles match, the Cat racqueteers battled the Auburn Plainsmen furiously only to lose, 4-2. Captain Stewart's cohorts reached their peak of play against the Howard Bulldogs and swept the hapless Eastsiders from their path, 6-0.

Prospects for a successful 1933 team are very bright. Captain-elect Downes, Watson, Elliott, and Cox will return to form a nucleus around which the team will be built, and with the addition of several sterling performers up from the frosh ranks, a formidable team is expected to represent the Hilltop on the courts.

CO-ED SPORTS

CO-ED athletics were resumed this year under new management, as Miss Barbara Ransom had just returned from a very profitable trip to New York. On her journey she received quite a few ideas about the whole arrangement of athletics. This very enthusiastic worker has taken over the orange romper girls and, with the aid of an energetic Athletic Council, has introduced several unique features in which the girls of every class are participating. This is the first time that an effort has been made to get the entire group of co-eds partaking of our physical education department.

In the selection of the 1932-33 Athletic Council, great pains were taken to acquire young women from every class and group represented on the Hilltop, so that through them co-ed athletics would become a well-rounded activity. The members of the council chosen are: Alice Burton, Sarah Sterrett, Johnnie B. Smith, Martha Key Caldwell, Bessie Scott Harris, Edith Johnston, Evelyn Andrews, Mary Claire Heath, Jeanette Maynor, Una Rae Elmore, and Caroline Worthington. Under the leadership of Miss Alice Burton, their president, we had already noted a greater interest prevailing among the fair sex towards the various sports.

As inducements, the department has secured letters, monograms, and numerals, which will be awarded those who take very active parts and excel in the various games. The three major games offered are basketball, volley ball and tennis. But for those who desire something different, or additional activities, the following have been included under the name of minor sports: baseball, hockey, touch football, track, swimming, horseback riding, golf, and archery. Tournaments in each of these have been staged. Each sorority was represented by a team, and Alpha Gamma sponsored several non-sorority teams in every event.

The first sport to be stressed this year was tennis. Quite a number turned out when this call to the courts was made. It has been noticeable that a great many girls play this game all year round. After tennis, attention was given to volley ball. This brought even more enthusiasm than ever before and competition was great. It happened that the sororities came out with the winning teams in this event. Theta Upsilon and Gamma Phi Beta seemed the best adapted to volley ball.

After this came basketball, the crowning sport of them all. It brought more girls to the Simpson gym than any other one. Not just one, but several afternoons were spent practicing, so great was the enthusiasm of the various teams for being better prepared when the tournament arrived. This took place in the early part of the Spring. All entries were worthy of much praise, in as much as they had trained and really made a sport of the affair. The best players, it is reputed, were found on the squad fighting for the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

As the weather allowed, the minor activities came into prominence. Warm climate seems to be most fitting for these. The Athletic Council sponsored the whole program and mapped it out so that every girl was given a chance to take part in at least one form. Congratulations are in order for the splendid success of Miss Ransom, the director, in getting the interest of so many of the co-eds.

Beauty played and Troy burned.

Beauty caught—is quickly freed.

CAMPUS CHARACTERS

CAMPUS CHARACTERS

JOE COLLEGE. A man of pipes, pins, and pride, who has an air about him that seems to say: "I am carried on the shoulders of fads, and am a voice of many in the world."

BARONESS NUISANCE. She is a baby-faced girl looking not a day older than 10. Always running around like a lost child and making appearances at times and places when it would be a gawd-send if she just wasn't there.

BARON NUISANCE. Always in the way. So clumsy that he is scarcely able to get out of his own way. Outside of talking too much about things entirely unnecessary, he might do . . . as a pansy.

LADY LOVE. Oh yeah! She gives you that impression only because she doesn't have a car and thereby is unable to cart the College Hot around during vacant periods. With a Ford Phaeton and a tight skirt we guarantee a Flipping Flapper.

MR. HANDSOME. Listen, youse guys! Dis is the only living descendant of Tarzan. Now, he may be a bit brawny and unpolished, but the women fall by the scores for the chump. In fact, dey all sneered when dey heard the name, Hicks, but when dey got a squint of the brute—he's held them spellbound ever since.

ON THE HILLTOP

WILL U. LOANME. Like his grandpa, One-eye Connelly, he's the only one in his circle, or in any circle, that can go to all the parties and make all the functions, sans centimes. With his personality and good company, he pays all his debts. Now if you think his creditors are satisfied, take a look at some of these long, sour faces around here.

I. M. GOOD. A band leader hardly worthy of mention. He would do lots better as an advertisement for tooth paste. Outside of being the daredevil at handstands, he is by his own confession the best baton juggler in Alabama.

LUCY DRESSWELL. Clothes make the man. Eve knew and used it against Adam, and from that time on man has been handed the apple (core). Today at Ol' Southern, maker of men, we find the modern Eves still dishing out the applesauce, and making 'em like it.

FRANK DRESSWELL. A Lord Chesterfield in modern garb. Really he should be in gay Paris fashioning clothes. For outside reading, he is an all-time subscriber to Vogue, Butterick Patterns, and Lady's Home Journal. He is a man with a place for everything, even to the last hair on his head.

JUSTO GIGGILO. Boy, he slays 'em! His best bit of gigging was done on a certain K. A. function down at the Thomas Jefferson. There, a "woozy women wound in wed" fairly embarrassed our best gigger when she snatched him from the Knights and made a lowly Vassal of him.

CAMPUS CHARACTERS

AL A. LONE. He wanders around in a stupor and acts about as out of place as Dr. Hawk at a Technocrat Convention. Evidently he doesn't fully realize that this is college, for his formality is killing. Will someone please relieve the gentleman of the board up his back?

U. R. WRONG. A traveling information bureau. For questions to be answered or corrected, problems to be solved —if you are in doubt about anything—see him. In fact, he's so nice and nosey he'll even answer your questions and tell you what to do when his b(p)ig brains are not needed.

JENNY APPLEGRABBER. She's a gabbing grabber from 'way back. It is rumored, and we believe it, that Cleo taught her the ropes. When it comes to getting the big juicy pommes, her fruit basket is always full. Watch out, you suckers!

BEN BROWSING. What he doesn't find, can't be found. A regular hound after useless information. If all his knowledge were run through a meat chopper, it would make good stuffing for frankfurters. "And any way you slice it. . . ."

SAMMY VOTEGETTER. With that golden, waved hair and his ear-to-ear smile, it's no wonder he's responsible for so many uninterested students trudging up to the polls. The great mystery that we would like to cash-in on is to find out the exact type of bull he shoots the profs, because it is a known fact that his social calendar leaves not one opening for study.

ON THE HILLTOP

WILBER WARBLER. His appearance on the stage is one of the few legitimate excuses for cutting chapel. It is rumored around that his atrocious abuse of high "C" is the direct reason for Prof. Hemphill's loss of a one-time "goodly" stock of hair. We nominate Wilber for "Hog-Caller" No. 1 on Southern's campus . . . may he very early learn to dodge and duck.

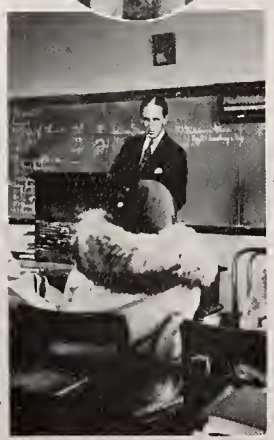

GOODTIME CHARLIE. With two choruses of "the gang's all here," and a couple of "hail good fellows, well met," we introduce Goodtime Charlie, our play-boy and man-about-town. Ever ready for a fight or a frolic. He is active president, without a doubt, of the largest organization on the campus—The United Auto Sitters Association of America.

ANNA BELLE ACTRESS. You've seen her in chapel. Ain't she swell? Did you know that she was the one who did all the fiddling while Rome burned—poor Rome? Nero called her his little "grapefruit"—what an eyeful!

ARCHIBALD ACTEUR. A Shakespeare, a Drinkwater and a Shaw, rolled into one. As happy on the stage as a kitten in a sandpile and as playful. Don't let the first impression fool you. For really he is a brute at heart.

FREDDIE FACULTY. Selected the Preferred Prof of the campus, we think so much of his dignity that we're placing him in our "character" section. An ice cream cone and a tacky-looking cap are his distinguishable features. And is he crazy about Klaxon horns!!!

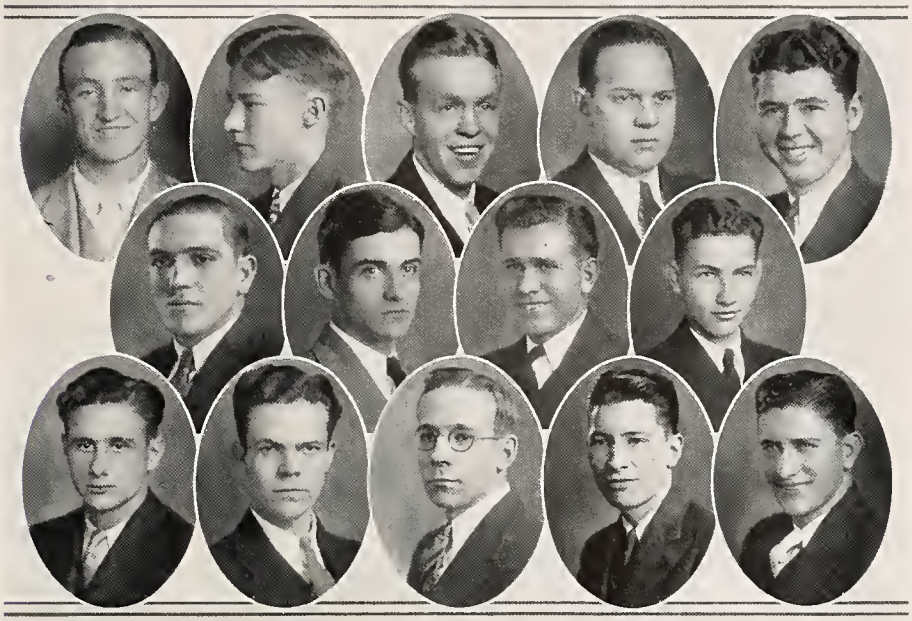

Tall dark men of pride and pipes,
Sophisticated sisters, they—
Bound in groups by secret grace,
As one, within a larger space.

BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

FLOP-HOUSES

PI KAPPA ALPHA. Just off the campus stands the white mansion of the "Power Knights of Alcohol." Here is the hangout of football players and "Shine" Bradford. Perhaps the fact that one of the brothers is Deacon Reaves' right-hand man enables them to pay the rent.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON. A creaking, old frame house overlooking the Hilltop. A place for Zetas to eat lunch on the front porch. "Politics and more politics" is their motto for campus elections. It is rumored that Minerva's sons are considering leasing the Auditorium or Legion Field for chapter meetings.

CHI CHI. "Ma" Hale's big happy family. Famous for high grades, shady politicians, and the Bishop "Brothers." The only lodge on the Hill not spending their hard-earned "iron men" on traveling secretaries . . . and proud of it. Really not a bad bunch of Coca-Cola drinkers.

KAPPA ALPHA. "Dieu et Les Dames," God help the women, especially K. D.'s. A rambling cottage in the east, presided over by "Chief Battle-axe" Turnipseed. Sometimes the young knights are seen walking about the campus casting furtive glances behind them. Yes, Watson, it's only the chapter treasurer on their trail. These lads are renown for pre-med. students and the quality of their "Aqua Pura."

DELTA SIGMA PHI. This lodge is also to the east. No disgruntled politicians here. These boys "whupped" the clique, putting one man in office. And are they proud? I'll say they are; but one wonders about what. Maybe it's Brother Husk O'Hare who is trying to outcroon the pride and joy of the S. A. E.'s.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA. To the north, perched on a mud bank, squats the abode of the "Among The Outcasts." "Dirty Politics" is the theme of their chapter meetings—and their alibi. During "Rush Week" they lock in a closet their F. W. F. (Finnegin, Wharton, Fossick) trio. It is whispered that Gracie Allen expects to find her lost brother among these.

THETA KAPPA NU. Across from Legion Field stands the once imposing old Southern colonial house, home of "Those Klucky Numbskulls." These lads spend their time arguing over international peace. No, Oscar. That's not Cyreno de Bergerac; it's Floyd White.

BETA KAPPA. The little yellow bungalow just off the campus. But what about it?

INMATES OF THE STOCKHAM BUILDING

Kappa Delta

Debutants are Kappa Deltas. Join us and learn to handle gigolos.
We stand for everything, even the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. (See Hiden.)
Kappa Deltas 99 44/ 100% pure and untouched.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Phis are intelligent! Ask the man who dates one!
Here is the true literary talent of the campus. Ask Childers.
WE recommend Pi Phi kisses.

Alpha Chi Omega

Girls of the Golden Lyre. Singing, Dancing, and Piano lessons taught.
If you are talented, be an Alpha Chi.
We don't ask much. For example, Edith Teel!

Zeta Tau Alpha

Be a Zeta and tame Minerva's lions!
Zetas are EXCLUSIVE, so much so we have only three active members.

Delta Omega

We stay off the campus! No tenement house for us!
Tri Delts are nice girls! Just ask us, you cynics!

Alpha Omicron Pi

We are quiet and refined!
Our horrible examples: "Claxton" Caldwell and "Hellraiser" Harris.
Be an A. O. Pi and learn the K. A. grip.

Gamma Phi Beta

Gamma Phis are swell at Goucher! Why not at Southern?
Don't ask us.
Be a Gamma Phi and keep away those awful "Blue Shadows."

Theta Upsilon

Be a book-store gigolette. We know the dope!
Each Theta U. one of Peacock's gaudy plumes.
Wright boys. Here are Moore Brown Peacocks, but you must leave theMalone.

Gamma Theta

Y a Southern Sorority?
Pianist politician Pharr keeps us Christian.
We even snob football players! (By request.)

*THIS IS not A PAID POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

Select circles, that rise above the rest.
Holding the high principle of the group,
Reward the efforts of the true,
By showing what each one can do.

MORE LILIES FOR FRANCES

By

JAMES ALFRED LAMBERT

Solomon Sokko stalked over the tender greensward, a bucket and a trowel swinging from his hands. He was taking a short cut across the darkened campus of a small college. It was late in May, and the herbaceous odors were making the big fellow a bit home-sick for the pines of his country hills. Solomon had worked about the campus for four years. Thrice he had watched the annual commencement procession, watched it from a distance and from a pair of worn overalls. But tomorrow Solomon would be among those who marched into their beloved chapel to receive sheep skins. But before tomorrow, before commencement dawned, Solomon had a couple of jobs to do.

An overworked chemistry student, rushing to complete the year's assignment had forgotten to drain his vat: it had overflown. In the room beneath the lab, there was danger of plaster falling. Besides the mess in the lab, a pipe in the basement of the women's dorm had sprung a leak. Solomon had a couple of jobs to do. And on his way to them, he trudged across the campus, a trowel and a bucket swinging from his hands.

"Hello, Janitor Boy"—she gave him a nice grin—grin, not smile—"hello." She was returning from a late movie, alone.

"Hello, Frances—" his mother had taught him to be polite, even when he wanted to do a nice, bloody murder.

"You going my way, Janitor Boy?"

Sokko answered, "No, I'm going the other way. Which is your way?"

Mr. Sokko neither bowed, smiled, or even looked pleasant as he left her in the moonlight and whistled his way along to Science Hall. He remembered that during his first year at school, Frances had asked him for a date and he had refused to be kidded. Ever since that time, she had been trying to loop him—the point was that it pained her to miss even one man, even a janitor boy—but Solomon refused to be looped, particularly since Frances was the only person in college who razzed his menial tasks and his persistent air of aspiration.

Knocking down the wet plaster, Solomon was glad that he had his sooty hat on his head, was pleased with the shield-like defense of his horn-rims against the flying mortar. He mused upon the way that Frances had dropped football men after the season was over. And he pondered that spring night when a senate leader had fallen into the lily pond beneath Frances' balcony. When asked by the night watchman why he had been there so late at night, the senator insisted that he'd been picking lilies from the pond's surface. After that, whenever a new male came to college, he was referred to as more lilies for Frances. Every gent on the campus had either willingly or not willingly become a slave to her blue gaze—except Solomon Sokko. It was even whispered that a professor, inspired by blue and gold, had been seen parked on several dark roads.

Sitting on the floor with legs pushing hard against the wall, Solomon twisted and strained at the water pipe. The heavy Stillson slipped and gave misery to his thumb; but he worked steadily on—Solomon Sokko was a man who would work steadily on.

"Hello, Janitor Boy." She was sitting on a step, wearing her mulberry gown. Anyone but Mr. Sokko would have answered the call of the wild and let the basement in the girls' dormitory flood to its fullest; but Solomon allowed evil to remain perched on the step above him, and wrestled on with his wrench.

"Hey, Janitor Boy, how come you do me like you do?"

Solomon reminded himself of the maternal admonition: "Always be polite, my darling boy, always be polite. Don't knock little girls in mulberry dressing gowns on the head with big Stillson wrenches—always be polite." Solomon tugged at the pipe, agonizing under the restraint imposed by his dear old mother.

"How come, Janitor Boy?" She pouted the question down to him and stretched in satin rhythm. "Or is this your night of silence?"

It was.

Frances uncurled and, standing, drew tight the dressing gown until it moulded her in silken curves. Languorously she sleeked down the steps. And once she was close to Solomon she dreamed from beneath mascaraed eyelids and shook the perfume from her hair.

"Aren't you ever going to let me help you, Janitor Boy?" Her finger-tips, tipped with little pink shells, slid down his coat sleeve. "I could help you a lot," she murmured with her lips and with her eyes.

Solomon put down his wrench and got up. He went out of the basement of the girl's dorm, crossed the campus, and entered his own room. There he assembled a pile of old rags, a frayed rug, and a pair of worn-out overalls. These he put in a large tub, went out of his room, crossed the campus, and entered the basement of the girls' dorm. Passing through the basement, he came to the steps. These he climbed. He opened the door at the top and walked along the hallway looking at names on the room panels. Finally, he came to a name and placed his tub before it. He struck a match to the rags and tended the young flame, smothering it just enough. Once it was smoking nicely, Solomon went outside and waited. It was midnight.

Fifteen minutes later, after screams from the girls' dorm had alarmed the campus and assembled a crowd, a girl in a mulberry dressing gown appeared on the balcony outside the window of her room. She stretched forth her silken clad arms.

"Save me," she screamed piteously.

And scores of males responded to that call. Scores of males leapt forward to mount to the balcony of the terrified Frances. But before them all was Solomon Sokko. By some apparent coincidence, Solomon Sokko had been standing immediately beneath the stricken lady's balcony; and Solomon had the right of way. Nimbly he mounted to her side.

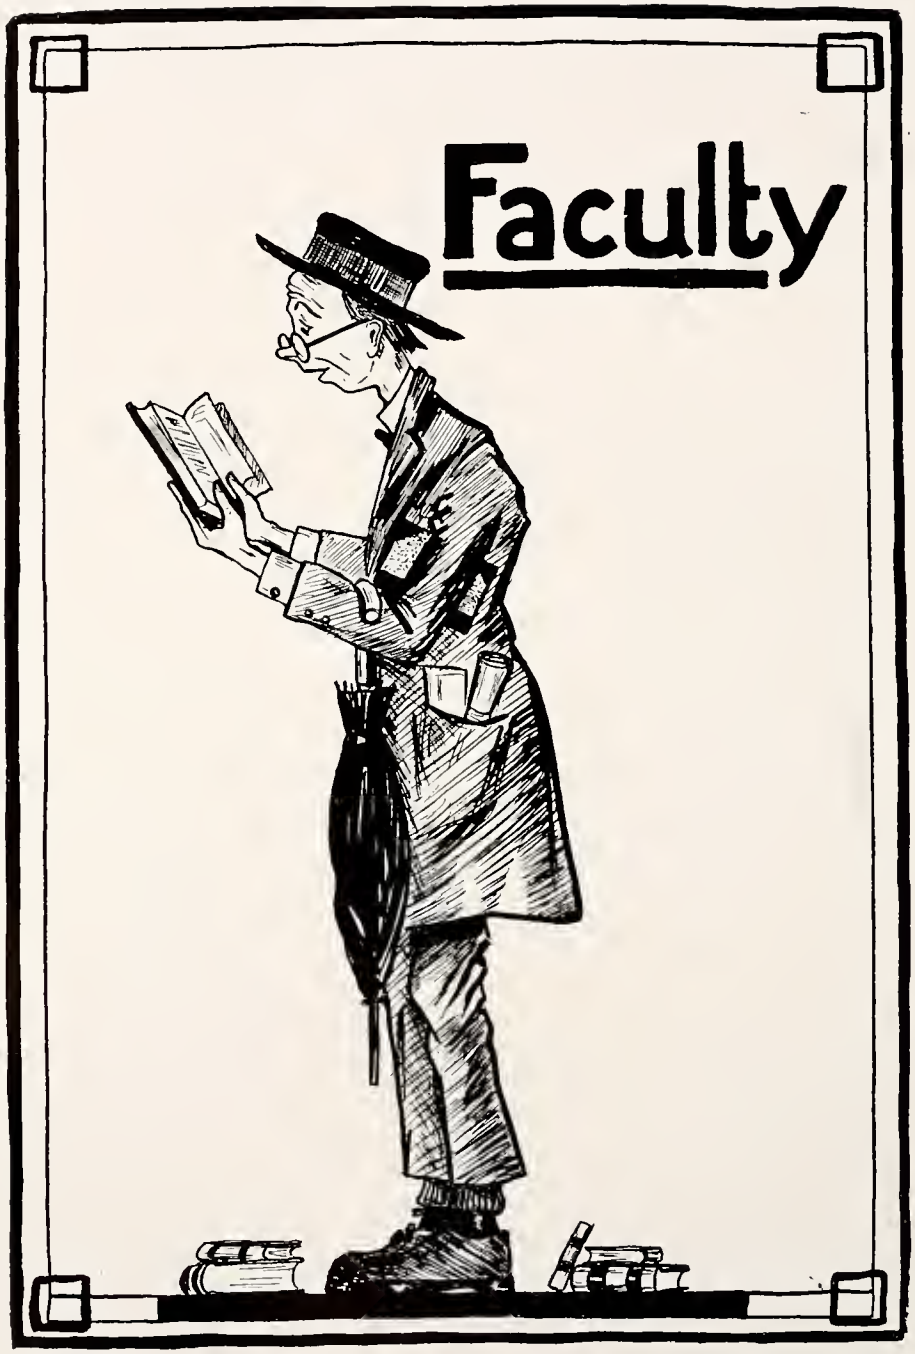

Frances called and cooed her encouragement. The multitude answered back. And Solomon swung himself stalwartly upward.

"Oh, Janitor Boy!" she cried, and before the assembled populace encompassed him within silken arms.

And Solomon, polite to the last, asked her pardon as he disentangled her arms; he even asked her pardon as before the startled eyes of the mob he lifted little Frances over the railing of the balcony, poised her there a moment, whispered: "With love from the Janitor Boy," and politely, tenderly dropped her ker-plunk in the middle of the lily pond.

After which, Mr. Sokko removed the tub of rags, returned to the basement, picked up his Stillson wrench; and, planting himself so that his legs pushed hard against the wall, he twisted and strained—but now Mr. Sokko whistled a merry, a lilting tune.

CAMPUS GEOGRAPHY

OUR MONASTERY.

The newly acquired Simpson Edifice reminds us of an old, discarded and dilapidated clubhouse for monks, way away from civilization. The effect is noticeable—very much so. We forget all worldly matters on those too frequent pilgrimages there to visit Saint Patron of Education.

THE COY McCOY.

Herein are the offices of Hutto, Hutto, and Hutto, courteous custodians of Christianity. In vain they seek the Collegians as clients. The only ones they can rope in are members of the Ministerial Association, and why should they pay attention. They know more than the preacher—or think they do.

SUNDIAL.

A gift of the Class of '28. Claimed by some old grads to have once shown the correct time. But now, placed among the other traditions, only a lonely pillar in the center of a grassy waste, serving as an inspiration to "initial engravers" and a brace for "lean to" Freshmen.

MUNGER BOWL.

A big hole filled with cinders, weeds, mud, and fresh air. The well known prowling place of the panther. A big gift from a big man.

LIBRARY.

The home of industrious students and a hangout for the society set on cool mornings. Here among shelves of ancient and undigestible books the anaemic students delve into subjects unknown to anyone.

PRESIDENT'S HOME.

Situated a little behind and a little to the right of Munger Memorial. Here in this beautiful English colonial mansion dwells the "Kingbee," ruler over all the little "Bumbles" whose honey makes possible the existence of this noble school.

STOCKHAM WOMEN'S BUILDING.

The newest building on the campus, and furnishing a meeting place for all our beautiful wenches. A Greek harem, very alluring to the men students, but forbidden to them by college rules—very unnecessary rules in the opinion of all the gigolos and many of the more enterprising gigolets.

MUNGER MEMORIAL.

The hive wherein all the little "bumbles" store their honey—or else get stung. Between "Red" Yeilding's and "Ma" Hale's windows, many a pair of shoes are worn to shreds by slow thinking, slow moving, slow paying, wall-eyed and bleary-eyed students.

SCIENCE HALL.

A tower of brick, leaky pipes, and acid fumes, where men of science dwell. Great rows of bottles, tubes, flasks, and cries in the night. A place well known for the torture of students and cats, and a place of scientific data. "Through Science to faith."

BOOKSTORE.

Better known as "Deacon's Den." Here many unsuspecting studes are put on the spot. One of the big rackets on the campus run by "Buch" Reeves and the Pi K. A. boys from across the Arkadelphia. The rapid growth of this enterprise is due to the motto: "Don't worry why the black hen lays the white egg—get the egg."

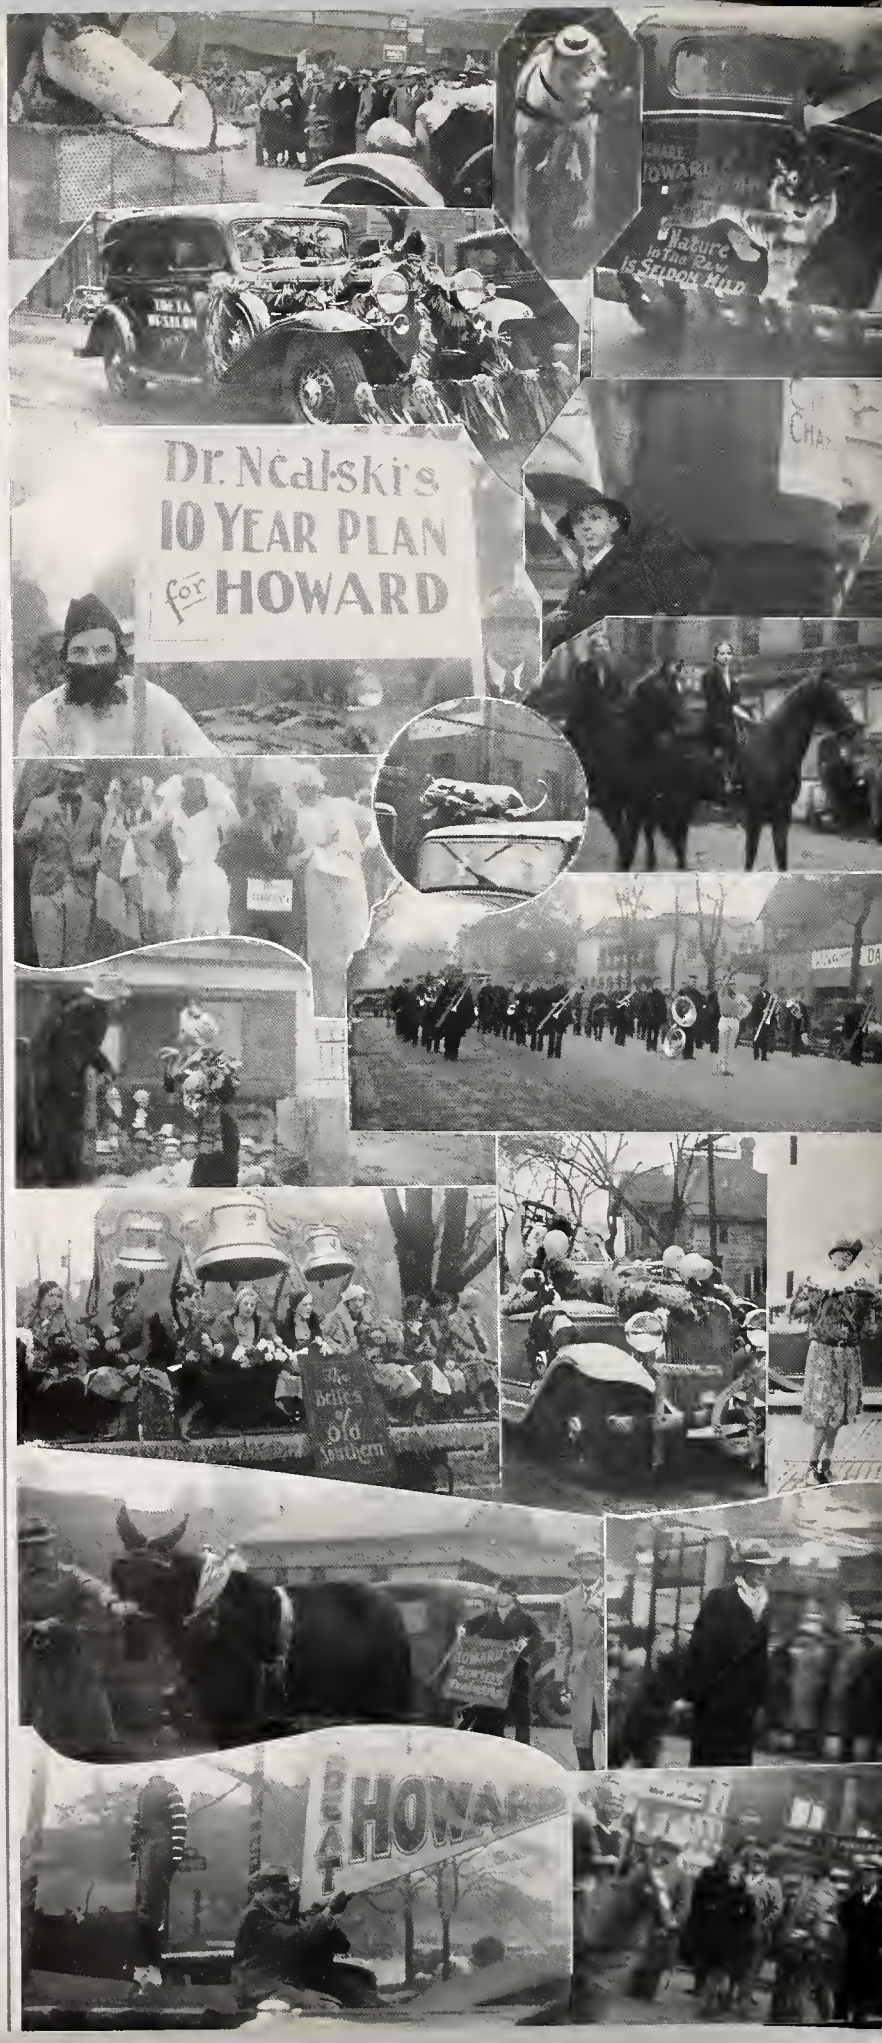

DORMITORY.

Nestled in simple, sylvian beauty; a museum of college heirlooms, wall paintings, and antique furnishings. Here one sees queer things, hears queer noises, and is surprised at nothing. Truly a man's house—gawd knows he can have it.

Parade

By Bishop

This is a story of many varieties. Herein are floats, our own Belles, pretty cars, signs, stunts, dogs and everything. There is Sid and the boys. Here come more signs, cars and stunts—all adding to the color of this event we'll never forget. Misses Brown and Pettus, on hosses; our interpretation of Howard faculty; Senator Meier guarding the trophy; some more chapters in our story. Bringing it to an end, we present the Panther what scratched. Hail the Panther!

A Mystery Unsolved

By Photos

This page reveals the success of our secret cameraman who, after many diligent hours of snooping, has made it possible for us to know the truth. How many times do we stammer around trying to smooth over or evade that age-old interrogative—"Who was that lady I seen you with?" At last the naked facts are presented in answer to requests of both parties. Since it is the huth that trurts, I mean the trurth that huts, anyhow, we hope you can fact the faces — you understand.

Kluttz is seen giving Brute the air. That sad picture was taken the day Alice beat me at Battleship. P. Taylor even gets a thrill out of embracing Miss Coca Cola. The rest we will let you figure out, it's more fun that way.

EDITORIALS

Dear Editor, (Ollie hon):—

I know that you think it seems funny for me to write you like this, but I was afraid that you might have forgotten what you told me that night after the dance. I know that you will keep your word. While I was having my picture taken I thought of you, and I know that is the reason it was so good. I can't wait for the book to come out. Then you and I can be together more when you don't have to put so much time on your work.

Ollie, sweet, I hope that you don't have too much trouble picking out the other girls for the Beauty section, 'cause there are some more girls who are cute too.

I am thinking of you, dear, and I hope I can see you soon.

Love and kisses,

LOUISE LILES.

P.S.: Remember that night after the dance.

Dear Editor:

Sir, it has been brought to my attention that you want my picture for the LA REVUE. Of course I know that you are trying to make a good book, and that you want the best representatives from the student body; considering this fact and being always ready to do my part to help Ol' Southern, I have had twenty-five snap-shots made and I am sending them to you. If you find that these are not plain enough, or that they are too small, please inform me and I will have some more made.

And remember, if you have anything that I could help you out on, just let me know. I have always been willing to do my part in the activity for the students.

In case you want any more pictures, please tell me. I can get some more poses or I have some pictures of myself when I was a baby.

Yours truly,

SIDNEY CARPENTER.

Editor:

I just heard that you made the statement that a certain girl wasn't good-looking enough to be in your beauty section. Sir, that was my girl and I resent that remark. There ain't no beauty section that my gal can't crash, and I expect to see her picture in the LA REVUE! You know who I mean and if I hear that you say anything else about her, I am going to see that your name is put in the "In Memoriam" space.

I hope that you take this hint and act before it is too late.

I mean business,

NOWLIN KEENER.

Dear Editor:

I feel that my son is not getting the best instruction in his history. I understand that his teacher is a certain Dr. Turnipseed, whose character is not of the best repute. I feel that since I am paying my money for an education, I expect him to teach more history and spend less time filling my son's mind with stories of a shady nature.

I am writing to you, Mr. Editor, because I feel that you are in a position to open the eyes of the student body to this matter.

I have never met this Turnipseed, but I gather from the reports brought home by my son that he is the proverbial "fly in the ointment" in the pure and wholesome life on the college campus.

Sincerely,

A SOUTHERN ENTHUSIAST.

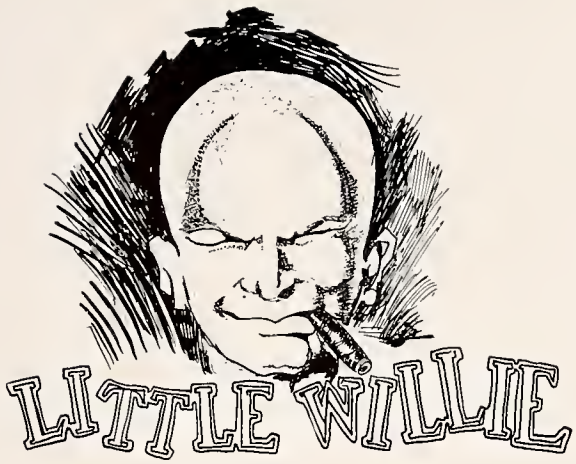

Dear Editor:

I understand you are contemplating running my picture in the "Who's Who" section of LA REVUE. I would advise you not to do so. Otherwise I SHALL BE FORCED to print the details of the party which was thrown at the Shades Tavern the night of December the thirty-first (31). Knowing as you do, how the reputation of the staff would suffer, I believe you will follow my advice.

Yours truly,

A. FRIEND.

NOTE: The Staff decided that it would be unwise to run Ed Dannelly's picture.

Little Willie, being funny,
Kicked the prof in the bunny.
Now, little Willie's not in school.
He should have known, the little fool.

Little Willie, just for looks,
Tore pages from some Library books.
Miss Gregory, though in vain,
Said: "Don't do that again."

Little Willie on a spree,
Got as lit as a Christmas tree.
Papa caught him, but you can bet
Willie ain't had no dessert till yet.

Little Willie grew quite chilly.
And pulled the cover from his brother, Billy.
The north wind blew, and Billy froze;
But Willie was warm from head to toes.

Little Willie, to make a name,
Set the Science Hall aflame.
When the fire had burned to the ground,
Willie caught a ride to town.

When little Willie pledged a frat,
He bought himself a shiny gat,
And when they beat him all in fun,
Little Willie used his gun.

There was an old man called Dean
Whom the student thought was mean,
The girls say he's fickle,
And the goatee, it tickle
And still they call him mean.

We know a young editor named "Ed"
Whose success has gone to his head.
He seems so demure
But you can be sure
He even snores in his bed.

Little Willie, for fun, he said,
Beat in another student's head.
The Dean said, it sure was tough,
And asked Willie not to play so rough.

Little Willie, wild with gore,
Pinned the instructor to the floor.
All the studes yelled: "Hurray,
We won't have any class today."

Little Willie, on a lark,
Crashed the gate at Highland Park.
A little bored, he sighed: "Ho hum."
And started kicking a hole in the drum.

Little Willie, just for fun,
Held up the bookstore with a gun.
Now, little Willie is far from here,
Down in Kilby, doing a year.

Little Willie's sister, Kate,
Worked in the gym very late.
The boys never told what they had seen,
But this we know, Kate made the team.

Little Willie, playing mean,
Pulled the whiskers of the dean.
Deany laughed with childish glee
And said: "By hang, that's on me."

There was a young artist named Nagel
Who drew on his books and his table.
Now just a glance
At his baggy ole pants,
Will convince you that he is able.

Here's a toast to the football squad,
They work and slave and try very hard,
To dodge Coach Gillem
For fear he'll fill 'em
With songs and talks of duties of the squad.

H. E. Men

By Birth

We begin with a M. D. (mighty drowsy) chapter. First the Doctor; then a To-Be-Doctor, a Hope T. B. Doctor. Tillie breaks into print wearing the hat that won the Howard game—he says. Isn't that just too ducky—two Lac (Lock) enthusiasts afloat. And now—Eh. O. Uney. Ask Brute what he's hiding, we've been paid for not telling. Some of the boys, Bob Davis aloft, Delmar (a little bear), and Coy McCoy fall in line. Look! Sir Sid at his best, and the form—notice, girls. The management (two disgusted millionaires) and next the other "Ed." Forsooth, the Captain, at ease. Yumps and hurdles by Wright then comes Pete busting the tape. These four main Claws kept that egg up by Howard's score.

Just Girls

By Nature

The "Three D's" are first to be portrayed in this story. Following close, come "Gracie" Liles and Millie, who seems chilly. Here are three of the romper queens, also members of the Athletic Council. More "D's", then a romping Davenport. Sister Pharr, and some cohorts, are caught in session. Now, my gal Nell, of faculty fame—same ole smile. More of Miss Ransom's little helpers. Look! a Kluttz clutches a McAllister. We'll have none of that, young ladies. One of the brightest things around here, "red-on-head Stool." The last of the council, they did fine this year, congrats, girls. As this started,so it ends,—the rest of the tri-diddys.

FRAGMENTS OF GOSSIP

By
I. Ben Snoopin

Ah! that eternal triangle—Billie, Bob and Mae. . . .

"Life for me is no bed of roses," says Millie. "Where's my Henry?" . . .

It was thought that a turtle had joined our midst, but on second look, it was discovered to be Tillie Walker—under the hat. . . .

I wonder why Dr. Hawk is always placing Doyle Perry on an island unprotected, with Clara Bow. . . .

Another eternal triangle lifts its beastly head. It consists of: Margaret, Dolly, and Donnell (formerly Donald, accent on Don—now Donnell, accent on ELL). . . .

If you want to get in on the latest gossip, see Jane Judge.

"It wasn't told to me, I only heard." Clinton Bishop certainly courts a sweet girl—Dot Cide.

Virginia Jenkins would like to know if people are judged by the company they keep, because if they are, some guy is going to get dropped. . . .

If you ever see a huge Cadillac drive up and it is overloaded with our he-men athletes, you can bet it is just a vulgar display of Miss McHugh's power. . . .

Being interested in the betterment of character, spunk, vitality and football sweaters—I take it upon myself to warn the boys to be careful when they get their next sweater. Be sure and examine it carefully, because you can never tell what Spud Holman will be knitting next. . . .

The senators are like a family of cats (literally). Mother Turnipseed leads the bunch 'cause she has the goods. What we want is more constructive Meows and less of this running around, or Papa Student Body will have to attend to Tabby. . . .

So sweet is devotion. You should picture the charming little Smith girl as she waits over a horrible radiator while ole Mr. Hemphill helps her ONLY learn a bit more concerning musick. . . .

Miss Harmer is really harmless. She tries to act so mean. I bet she even comes to the table on Hallowe'en with a mask on, just trying to scare someone. . . .

Well girls, any of you who are courting A. T. O.'s, you might as well start on another fraternity because Minnie Elliott has copped the only one possessing full ownership of a jeweled chest-protector. Now we know why Minnie's shoulders have become a bit humped, such a load. . . .

Pardon if I become a little sentimental. Evelyn Pharr has that effect upon me. If you will but glance at her honors and then those of Dr. Snavely, you will find that she is surpassed by two. To think that she is leaving us with such a record nearly drives me to tears. It seems that for anyone who tried as hard as she and then to miss by two, something could be done. Every effort was made to get her the position of Pi K. A. housemother, then she could have coasted into the President's seat, but they refused to consent on the grounds that none should occupy the chief's seat except a chief, no squaws. . . .

Jo Bailey seems to be the sweetheart of the city. When the American Legion, Police Band and all the rest take time off to select a queen and even escort her to Washington—there must be something to the little girl. What is it, young lady, that can make the ole boys come to attention? . . .

Gracie Sibley is so dumb she thinks Alma Mater is a musical comedy. . . .

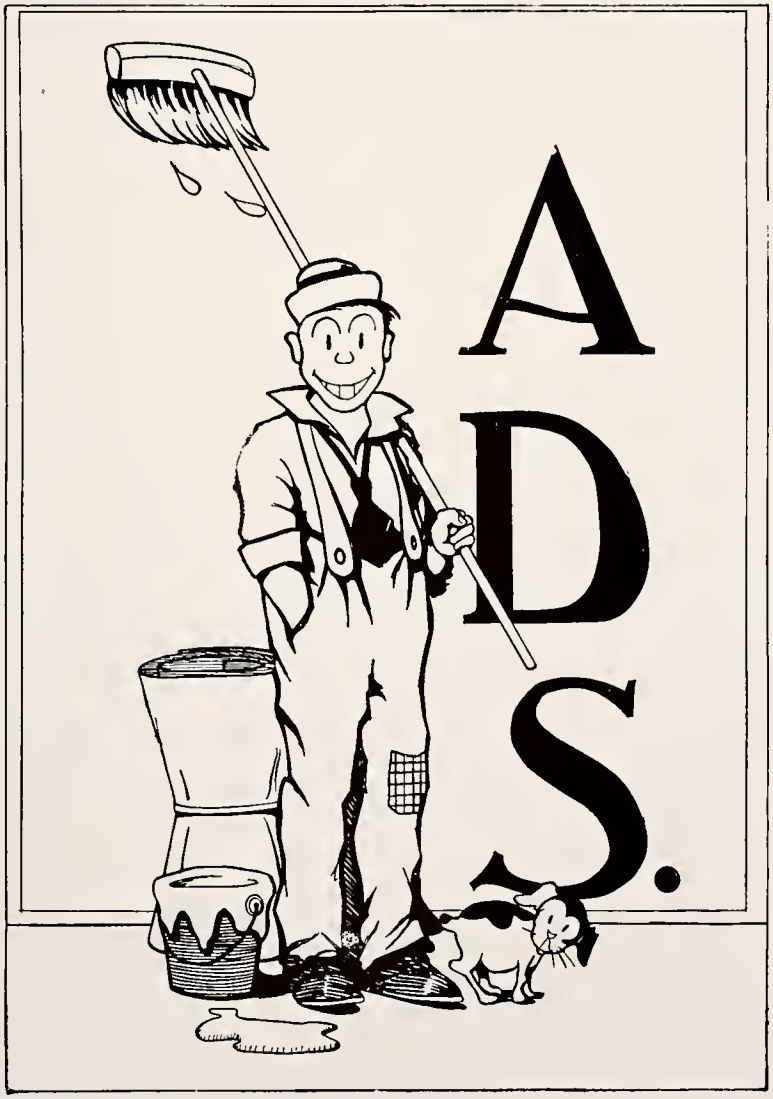

Margaret Healey is getting a little Keener about who she goes around with.

Someone told me that they are the co-presidents of the American National Auto-Sitters Association—I believe it, too. . . .

Mist—white foam—a swirling sensation of billowing waves—where is he? L. Beaird blundered against something hard and cold—a blinding, stinging sensation in his eyes—he gasped and choked—involuntarily he reached forward—the thing was within his grasp—at last, a towel— and the soap was wiped from his eyes. . . .

Clayton hasn't had the same security and faith in little Teel ever since she got loose and attended the Amazons Dance, where she seemed to enjoy seeing what the other boys were like. . . .

The maid came into the house and said: "Miss Hamilton, there's a woman outside with a man." To which old-maid Francena replied (to our surpise): "Tell her to send him in. I'll take him." . . .

GULFSTEEL is one of the few self-contained units in the steel industry owning and operating its own coal and ore mines, limestone quarries, etc. The absolute control, thus afforded, of every manufacturing process enables us to guarantee the quality of our products.

GULFSTEEL is now the largest independent manufacturer of finished steel products in the South. This steady growth in the demand for GULFSTEEL products is the very strongest testimonial that we can have of the quality of our products and the satisfaction of our service.
